DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vermeer (5,880,076).

Art Unit: 1751

Vermeer discloses glycocarbamates and glycourea compounds, for use in personal care and cleansing compositions, wherein said glycourea compounds comprise hydroxyl ureas of the present invention (see formula b; and col. 20, lines 39-64). Vermeer further teaches the inclusion of 0 to 10% of humectants such as glycerin, sorbitol, lactic acid and polyols (col. 31, lines 4-20); ammonium salts of ammonium acid (col. 43, lines 41-47) and catalysts such as monoethanolamines (col. 17, lines 47-54). Note, see example 36.

Vermeer teaches all of the instantly required components except a specific teaching of the ratios, however, one of ordinary skill in the art would have been able to combine the components in the specific ratios given that the proportions of each of the component disclosed in Vermeer encompasses the claimed amounts and one of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to optimize the proportions to increase the efficacy of the skin cleansing compositions, absent a showing to the contrary.

5. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over DE (2703185).

DE '185 disclose cosmetic skin moisturizing compositions comprising 6 parts N-2-hydroxyethyl urea, 3 parts 1,2-propylene glycol; triethanolamine, glyceride and other materials (see day cream pg. 7).

DE '185 teaches all of the instantly required components except a specific teaching of the ratios, however, one of ordinary skill in the art would have been able to combine the components in the specific ratios given that the proportions of each of the component disclosed in DE '185 encompasses the claimed amounts and one of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to optimize the proportions to increase the efficacy of the skin cosmetic compositions, absent a showing to the contrary.

Double Patenting

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

7. Claims 1-17 provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claim 1-21 of copending Application No. 10/939,204. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not yet been patented.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the referenced copending application and would be covered by any patent granted on that copending application since the referenced copending application and the instant application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: hydroxyl alkyl urea; moisturizers and adjunct materials overlap in subject matter.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant would be prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application in the other copending application. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.
